Grateful Cratefulls, Owner

"The connections and opportunities that have come from attending have been remarkable. From meeting new partners at the Summit to reconnecting with key resources and scheduling follow-up conversations, each interaction has already opened doors to meaningful business opportunities. I left feeling refreshed, refocused, and more confident in pursuing new relationships. One comment from another attendee captured it perfectly: 'I feel like I am worthy of a seat at the table.'"

"It was my 4th year going [to Summit]. It was an incredibly curated event perfect for connecting with other women, learning more and being challenged. It had the perfect blend of breakouts, speeches, networking options, adventures, down time and more. I highly recommend it!"

The North Dakota Women's Business Center (NDWBC) is dedicated to supporting small business owners and entrepreneurs through education, resources, and support to drive North Dakota's economic growth. NDWBC is powered by Center for Technology & Business, a 501c3 focused on strengthening businesses, communities, and economic opportunity across the region.
